

DELEGATES IN CITY FOR D. A. R. CONGRESS

President Wilson Expected to Make Address to Open the Session Monday.

LEADERS ARE PREDICTING RECORD ATTENDANCE

Interest Centers in Choice of President General—Mrs. Story Asks Re-Election.

With the annual congress of the Daughters of the American Revolution scheduled to begin Monday, delegates from all parts of the country have begun to arrive here in large numbers. The registration books have been opened at Memorial Continental Hall for what is expected to be the largest attendance of delegates in the history of the congress.

Chief interest in the gathering of this year centers in the election of officers, the main contest being over the selection of president general. Mrs. William Cumming Story of New York, the president general, is up for re-election. The only other candidate for the place thus far is Mrs. George Thacher Guernsey of Kansas, who has opened headquarters here. Already work of furthering the interests of the two candidates has begun, and a lively campaign is promised.

President Wilson is expected to open the convention with a special address. Other speakers include Mr. J. M. Anderson, the French ambassador; John Barrett, director general of the American Union; and Mr. H. H. Hamilton, president of the Sons of the American Revolution. The annual convention of the Sons of the American Revolution also will begin here Monday.

Financial Reports Presented.

The first formal meeting of delegates to the congress was held in Memorial Continental Hall last night, when the Memorial Continental Hall committee presented financial reports showing the progress made during the past year in reducing the debt on the hall. These reports showed that more than $40,000 had been paid, the balance of the indebtedness to $75,000, the cost of the building having been $180,000. Mrs. Story, president general, announced that the sum raised last year was larger by $5,000 than the total amount raised during the preceding twelve months.

At last night's meeting $400 in contributions were received for the lot in the rear of the hall, to be used as a site for an office building for the organization. The contributions of last night increased the amount for payment on the lot to $1,900, the price of the lot being $2,000. Following the business meeting the committee adjourned to hear the reading of a play, "The Blue Light of Cape Cod," written for the Daughters by Mrs. Bell Bushnell. The play was read by Miss Victoria Siddons.

Special Services Sunday.

Officers and delegates to the convention as well as the general public are to attend a special service to be held at 10 o'clock in the Cathedral of the Holy Cross. Bishop Harding is to preside at the service. Special services in recognition of the congress and the D. A. R. are to be held in the Cathedral of the Holy Cross tomorrow.

A press committee, of which Mrs. Elizabeth Gadsby, chairman, is to be held at 12 o'clock Monday. Mrs. Gadsby is to have today to receive credentials of reporters and correspondents and to distribute press passes to the delegates.

Tea Each Day for Southern Delegate

Southern delegates to the D. A. R. congress are to be entertained at tea each afternoon at 2 o'clock by the Kate Gordon Chapter of the Southern States Woman's Suffrage Conference, which is opening headquarters this afternoon at 1212 F street. The tea will be attractively decorated with flowers, pictures and suffrage colors.

City of Washington Lecture Topic

A lecture, complimentary to the visiting delegates and their friends, will be given this evening at 8 o'clock in the auditorium of the National Museum. The lecturer will be Dr. Charles D. Walcott, secretary of the Smithsonian Institution, and Mrs. Walcott and her wives will hold a reception tonight from 8 to 11 o'clock at the New National Museum in honor of the president general and members of the organization.

Don't itch! use Resinol

The moment that Resinol Ointment touches itching skin the itching stops and healing begins. Takes Exception to Claim.

Mrs. Ralph M. Kirtland, regent of Minute Men Chapter, Boston, this morning said she was much surprised to hear that it was claimed that Massachusetts was unanimous for Mrs. Story. Massachusetts is before the D. A. R. Congress this year with a candidate for the office of president general.

A catch of rockfish made in the deep water between Aqueduct and Chain bridges Monday was the surprise of the week to anglers. "The rockfish came just about one month earlier than usual," said Will T. Reynolds, one of the oldest boatmen on the river, "and I must confess I do not know how to account for it."

TROOPS FORMED OF BOYS TO AID CLEAN-UP WORK

Policeman Ogle Organizes Force for the Removal of Refuse From Twining City.

In an effort to duplicate the clean-up work done in and about Twining City last year, Policeman A. C. Ogle has organized the boys of that vicinity into troops and started them at work. Some of the older residents of that section, following the example set by the policeman and his seventy-five youthful assistants, are gathering discarded tin cans and rubbish of every description.

"Gen." Ogle, as the head of the clean-up party is styled, gained experience last year that has proved beneficial this season. He has a purse of his own, and he is not only cleaning up the streets and alleys, but he is also cleaning up the minds of the boys. "Not a great amount," remarked one of the admirers of the boys, "but enough to furnish them with candy for a few days."

Hundreds of government employees took advantage of the holiday Thursday and were on the river bright and early. Bloodhounds were great in demand, and practically every angler on the river had a supply of them.

John W. Hurley, when he reached the river too late to get a boat. "Scores of women have been on the river during the past two weeks," he said, "and they have been very successful. The weather was just what they needed, and they were very much pleased with the result of their work."

Dr. Hugh M. Smith Reports Violations on Potomac to Maryland Game Warden.

Dr. Hugh M. Smith, chief of the bureau of fisheries, this afternoon sent a telegram to James P. Curley, state game warden of Maryland, telling him of reported violations of the law to enter Maryland side of the river in the vicinity of Great Falls. He was told that the law was observed on the Virginia side of the river.

Not only were small-mouth bass caught with hook and line, it was reported, but some were dipped from the river in nets. Although Dr. Smith has no authority to protect bass in the Potomac river, and asking him to put a stop to it.

The information received by Dr. Smith was that last Sunday fully 200 spawning bass were taken from the Maryland side of the river in the vicinity of Great Falls. He was told that the law was observed on the Virginia side of the river.

MUST ACCEPT NO GIFTS TO "BEND THE BARGAIN"

Officials Not Permitted to Receive Tokens of Appreciation From Naturalization Applicants.

No more will the federal naturalization examiners lay back in their swivel chairs and smoke the finest imported cigars at other expense, no more will they take home to their wives and sweethearts the very finest of foreign trinkets received as gifts. The good old days have gone. The alien from the time he steps into the naturalization office until he gets his final papers must be imbued with a high spirit of morality; he must be taught that graft of any kind, no matter how small or no matter how the offering is named, has been tabooed by the naturalization officials higher up.

For the edict has gone out from the Department of Labor: No more free smokes for the employees of the naturalization bureau. No more cigars, no more tokens of appreciation, no more gifts of any kind. The rule is absolute. No more free smokes for the employees of the naturalization bureau. No more cigars, no more tokens of appreciation, no more gifts of any kind.

Members of the naturalization force, of course, "say the statement," never accept a gratuity of any kind or description, a practice that the foreign applicant for citizenship is urged to comprehend. The alien must be taught that graft of any kind, no matter how small or no matter how the offering is named, has been tabooed by the naturalization officials higher up.
